The Dance Magazine

Saturday 15 May it was the day of dance. On this day several countries pay attention to dancing. If you live in The Netherlands, it is best to visit Rotterdam. On the day of dance you can see dance demonstration on many locations in Rotterdam. If you like to see a lot of different dances, you must definitely go to the Schouwburgplein.

I went there with my sister Sandra last year (see magazine 59-12=47) and this year we decided to go to the Schouwburgplein again. Unfortunately, we didn't know anything about the program of day of dance. I could not find information on the internet etc. We went to Rotterdam at about eleven o'clock. At the Schouwburgplein we received the program. The dance demonstrations began at 12.30. No problem, because I wanted to buy some cd's at the Media Markt. The last time I was shopping there, I had discovered a very good (but also cheap) series of ballroom dance cd's and I didn't have all of them yet. This time I found two cd's of that series and I could order the rest.

The series is from Gold Star and consist of 10 cd's. As you can see, I only miss the Foxtrot and the Samba. The cd's costs 5,99 euro each. That is very cheap for that quality. Normally, you have to go to Dancelife for this sort cd's. Every cd contains 18 varied numbers of which about 5 appeared on Dancelife cd's. There are both instrumental as well as vocal numbers on the cd's. Just buy them!!

Well, that was a good start of the day. It was almost time for the dance demonstrations and so we went back to the Schouwburgplein. The weather was very good. There were even more different dances than last year. New this time were Belly dancing, Moroccan dance, Tap dance and Solo ballroom dancing. I recognized many dancers, but they showed new dances and also the clothes were often different. The Break dancers did very difficult and spectacular acrobatic moves, but I could not see a connection with the music. They did not really dance. The Breakdancers that I saw last year did not so many acrobatic moves, but they danced better. This time I liked Indian dancing more than last year. Many dancers showed us that for dancing it doesn't matter if you are young, old, fat, thin, male or female. The ballroom dancing was done by students of dance school de Klerk and dance school Meyer et Fils. They showed us both the Latin dances as well as the Standard dances danced by seniors, beginners and competition dancers. It was very funny to see the 6 and 7 years couples dancing the Samba. I had seen them before, but they never dance the Samba at competitions. I recognized the figures, but it looked a bit strange. Well, I have written enough! Time for some photographs, because they say much more about day of dance.

DVD Dance Hot Salsa

By: Fred

When I was shopping in Utrecht, I saw the music store “Xangó world music records” which as you might already guessed is specialised in world music. I have bought DVD 1 and DVD 2 of Dance Hot Salsa there. These are Salsa dance instruction DVD’s with a lot figures explained very well by Josie Neglia. If you have an old television, you probably see everything in black white. Yes, I use an old computer monitor to watch DVD’s ☺. The DVD’s are recorded from video tapes. The quality is good, but of course not as good as digital recordings. Many sound parts are newly recorded which you can hear clearly. This sounds bad and is ridiculous for such expensive DVD’s. Well, the contents of the DVD’s makes it worth to buy them.
