Beads Dance Couples

By: Fred

I have designed a lot of beads dance couples again for the creative dancers. Read magazine number 69 if you have never ironed beads before. This time I thought it would be nice to use the special shaped pegboards. On this page you can see three different star designs. For each star I have designed a front side and a back side. You can sew them together using colored thread. The stars are nice to hang in the Christmas tree for example.

I have filled the whole star, but it is also nice to leave some parts open.

The Dance Magazine

You can even make a dance couple on a circle shaped pegboard. This was very difficult, but I am very satisfied with the result.

The Dance Magazine

Here is a dance couple for people who only have normal pegboards.

The Dance Magazine

For this dance couple I have used a hexagonal pegboard. This time the man has no bow tie, but you can make one if you like.

Design a dance couple yourself and send a photograph to fghb@xs4all.nl

Strictly Come Dancing – The Book

By: Fred

Some time ago I have bought the Strictly Come Dancing Book at Waterstone's in Amsterdam. In this book you can read everything about the first three series. You can also read about the different dances. There are no step descriptions in this book. If you like Strictly Come Dancing, you must have this book!

Dancing with the Stars

By: Fred

On Saturday 25 March there was the first show of the new Dancing with the Stars series in The Netherlands. It started bad with fast changing views and animations, which is exhausting for your eyes. I like to watch dancing in a relaxed way. Even the results were full with fast rotating stars. What is wrong with a normal result list. Apparently everything has to move and flash, but perhaps you like it. I was very satisfied with the music played by the Koos Mark Big Band. All songs had a good rhythm and tempo. Below you can see the music titles. The number after each dance indicates the tempo of the Koos Mark version in bars per minute. Keep in mind that the original song is not always suitable for dancing. "When I need you" for example is often too fast.
